Noelle's practice focuses on corporate real estate, banking and finance, and commercial agreements, with a particular emphasis on advising on cross-border investments and foreign participation in Malaysia.

She regularly advises on the legal and regulatory framework applicable to foreign investments, including land holding structures, joint venture arrangements, regulatory approvals, and project implementation strategies.

In the area of corporate real estate, she advises developers, investors and corporate clients on acquisitions and disposals of residential, commercial and industrial properties, as well as joint developments, industrial park projects and leasing arrangements. She provides end-to-end support across the transaction lifecycle, including structuring, risk allocation and execution.

In banking and finance, she advises financial institutions and corporate borrowers on cross-border financings, syndicated loans and real estate and corporate financings, covering both conventional and Islamic facilities. Her work includes advising on financing structures, drafting and negotiation of transaction documents, regulatory compliance and drawdown processes.
